

SOCIALISTS OUT TO KNIFE BRIAND | J. H. HAMMOND
NEAR COLLAPSE

GLOUCESTER, Nov. 3.—John Hay Hammond, the millionaire mining engineer, is at his Summer home, Lookout Hill, Freshwater Cove, on the verge of a nervous breakdown. While his friends are not apprehensive, it is known that his physicians have prescribed absolute quiet for a time. This is the reason for his absence from the Chamber of Commerce banquet at City Hall, where he was scheduled for a speech at the Republican rally. While nothing serious is anticipated, it is evident that Mr. Hammond will have to slow down for a time at least.

A black and white photograph showing a close-up, low-angle view of a road surface. A white dashed line runs horizontally across the frame, slightly above the center. The road surface is dark and textured, possibly asphalt. The background is a light, hazy area, suggesting a bright sky or a distant horizon. The overall composition is simple and focuses on the line and texture of the road.
